OUTDOOR COOKING 2024

YEARS

The power of gas and charcoal in one barbecue

Grillstream technology is a well-established brand seeking to revolutionise outdoor cooking with its unique double grill fat-streaming system, the wealth of features that come with Grillstream barbecues allow even the novice chef to perfect the art of grilling outdoors, check out our new extensive range of cooking solutions here.

Hybrid System

The best part of the Hybrid system is its flexibility, allowing you to use all gas, all charcoal or any combination of the two. Why not try a bit of indirect cooking by loading the two outer trays with charcoal and leaving the rest unlit? Or how about load a single tray with charcoal, ready to sear those steaks at a

Grillstream Technology

The simple science behind the double grills system is that the top grill streams away most of the fats and juices that would otherwise cause flare-ups.

Anything that drips over the side of the top grill collects in the bottom grill, this is taken

GasSure

Featuring a built-in gauge, GasSure keeps you informed of your gas levels, ensuring you never run out unexpectedly. With its innovative safety shut-off valve, it detects leaks and stops the flow

Gastro System

Sausages and burgers are a great staple of any barbecue but, if you're looking to get a little bit more creative, the Gastro System has it covered.

The built-in, Gourmet and Island Models come equipped with our Gastro System which is great for cooking more delicate foods, such as
